TO ERR IS HUMAN;
TO FORGIVE, DIVINE.

Inspirational and forward-looking

”Let’s dream bigger, dig deeper, and act with intent. This issue of RDBH is your invitation to rethink what’s possible.”

”Today’s pages carry momentum new insights, bold perspectives, and the momentum to turn knowledge into impact.”

Republic Day

From the echoes of 'Vande Mataram' that had filled the air on that January 26, to the spirit of unity we carried in our daily lives in classrooms, on the field, and in our boarding house traditions we pledged to uphold those ideals with honour and integrity.

SEVA

SAMITI

Class XII RDBH boys feeding warmth and gratitude to our beloved sub-staff family.

In a heartfelt act of service and empathy, we organized and personally contributed to feeding almost 2000 people — primarily our dedicated supporting staff (sub-staff), including mess workers, gardeners, security personnel, sweepers, and other unsung heroes who keep our historic campus running smoothly every single day. What began as a small idea among classmates soon grew into a collective effort fueled by unity, compassion, and the values instilled in us at Rajkumar College.

SkyWings

KITE FLYING

Under a sunlit canopy, the RDBH boy stood at the center of the field, guiding eager youngsters as their kites lifted in a chorus of color.

The sky became a canvas of swirling tails and tethered dreams, while families shared stories, snapped photos, and cheered every climb and flutter. It was a day where community, courage, and creativity soared together.

Cricket club

The RDBH Cricket tournament, featured an exciting match between two teams, captained by Salman and Farhan respectively.

Team selection took place through an engaging online auction format, where players were bid on using points as the currency. The standout moment of the auction was Omi Ghosh emerging as the highest-bid player, secured for an impressive 33,000 points highlighting his anticipated value and impact in the competition. This setup reflects the growing popularity of auction-style drafts in grassroots and amateur cricket leagues, adding strategy and excitement even before the match begins. A memorable highlight for RDBH Cricket enthusiasts!

RDBH'S Batch ISC26 Finale

As the lights dimmed on our final boarding house party of the year, the music faded, and the laughter slowly quieted, a bittersweet feeling settled over us all. This wasn't just another RDBH bash—it was our last one together as the ISC Batch of 2026.

RDBH Pre-Exam

Aaradhana

As the ISC Board exams drew near, the RDBH boys gathered with quiet reverence and hopeful hearts for our traditional pre-exam Pooja a beautiful ritual to seek the blessings of Goddess Saraswati, the embodiment of knowledge, wisdom, and focus.

This Pooja wasn't just about asking for good marks; it was about centering ourselves, letting go of anxiety, and embracing the challenge ahead with positivity. For many of us in the outgoing ISC Batch of 2026, it marked one of our last shared traditions in RDBH a poignant reminder of the spiritual and emotional support this place has always given us.

HOLI

Let the colors of Holi fill your heart with warmth, joy, and endless happiness.

THE BATCH OF ISC-26

As I sit down to pen this note for the final edition of RDBH Synergy the heartfelt boarding house magazine that has captured so many of our moments, laughs, late-night chats, and triumphs a wave of gratitude and nostalgia washes over me. This is our last contribution as the outgoing batch of ISC 2026, and what an incredible journey it has been in the hallowed halls and green expanse of Rajkumar college .We came here as boys with dreams, uncertainties, and endless energy. Over the years, RKC didn't just educate us it shaped us. From the thrill of RDBH cricket matches (shoutout to captains Salman and Farhan, and that record-breaking bid for Omi Ghosh at 33,000 points in the online auction pure legends!), to the camaraderie in the boarding house, the late study sessions, the festivals, the wins and losses every experience added a layer to who we are today. We had great fun, made lifelong bonds, and truly enjoyed our time in this special place we call home. The boarding life at RDBH taught us discipline, teamwork, resilience, and the joy of simple things a shared meal, a group cheer, or just sitting under the stars sharing stories.

To our juniors: Cherish every moment. The friendships you build here, the lessons you learn (sometimes the hard way!), and the memories you create will stay with you forever. Carry forward the spirit of RKC

To our teachers and house masters: Thank you for your endless patience, guidance, and belief in us. You turned boys into men ready to face the world.

As we step out of these gates, we leave a piece of our hearts behind but we take with us the values, the laughter, and the unbreakable bonds forged in RDBH.

Here's to the batch of ISC 2026 – we did it together, and we'll always be proud to say: We are from RKC.
