BOARDING HOUSE PARTY

RDBH AFTERHOURS

A boarding house party works best when it feels like a break from everything scheduled, and this one did. RDBH set aside its usual routine for an evening where students could relax, spend time together and enjoy a different atmosphere. It was lively without needing a packed programme

GREEN REVOLUTION AT RDBH

ONE PLANT- ONE NAME

The students of RDBH have taken a meaningful initiative to plant trees in their own names, fostering a personal connection with nature and the environment. This activity is a significant step towards promoting a greener future. By nurturing and caring for the trees they have planted, the students are contributing to environmental conservation while developing a lasting sense of ownership and commitment towards nature.

COMMERCE STUDENTS BROUGHT THE TROPHY HOME!!!

THE BUSINESS OF IDEAS

At the Commerce Exhibition, the students of RDBH went beyond simply displaying a model. They confidently explained the concept behind their project and demonstrated how it worked in practice. The model was thoughtfully prepared, clearly presented, and successfully captured the attention of the judges. Their efforts were recognised with the Prize for Best Model. This achievement was a proud moment for the entire team and demonstrated how a strong idea, careful preparation, and confident presentation can turn a project into a successful learning experience.

Ice-Cream Party

A SCOOP FOR THE WHOLE SCHOOL

The ISC Batch of 2027 turned an ordinary school day into a campus-wide celebration by hosting an ice-cream party for the entire school. Students and teachers gathered, flavours were chosen, and the usual routine quickly gave way to a much brighter atmosphere. With the whole school joining in, the event felt busy, cheerful and full of energy. It was a simple idea, generously carried out, and easily one of the most enjoyable events of the term.

गणेश चतुर्थी

IN HONOUR OF BAPPA

For Ganesh Chaturthi, RDBH paused its usual routine to welcome Bappa. Students joined in the prayers, preparations and decorations, giving the celebration the energy of the whole house. The occasion brought together faith, festivity and participation in a way that felt natural. What stood out most was not one particular part of the celebration, but the fact that everyone had a place in it.

Teachers day

BEYOND THE SYLLABUS

Teachers' Day at RKC was celebrated with warmth and enthusiasm, providing an opportunity for students and teachers to come together beyond the formal classroom environment. A variety of activities and interactive engagements added to the spirit of the occasion, fostering a sense of mutual appreciation and camaraderie. The active participation of both students and teachers made the celebration meaningful and memorable, reflecting the strong bond and mutual respect that form an integral part of the RKC community.
