PARTY DIARIES

"Where laughter fills the air and memories find their place."

Where We Belong

Within these walls, our stories grew,
Through laughter bright and moments few.

From morning bells to evening skies,
We found a home in each other's eyes.

We shared our dreams, our little fights,
Our whispered talks on endless nights.

Through every challenge, every cheer,
We made our memories year by year.

The corridors hold echoes still,
Of countless dreams and moments filled.

And though the days may come and go,
The bonds we made will always glow.

For boarding was not just a place to stay,
It was a chapter we shaped every day.

And wherever life may lead us to,
A part of this home will stay in us too.
